Summary of the 1987-88 Wisconsin Legislative Session

1987 WISCONSIN ACTS 1 to 422

INTRODUCTION

This bulletin provides an overview of the 1987-88 legislative session through June 1988. The main body of the bulletin is divided according to subject matter; beneath each subject heading the acts of the Legislature are individually described. The significant provisions of any act affecting more than one area of state law (including Acts 27 and 399, the budget acts) are described separately under the appropriate subject headings. The bulletin also includes summaries of the more important enrolled joint resolutions. Included in the HIGHLIGHTS section of this bulletin are synopses of those acts and joint resolutions that were of particular interest to the Legislature. Commonly used abbreviations are listed in section VI of the bulletin.

The 1987 Legislature took its oath of office on January 5, 1987. Its regular session was organized into 6 floorperiods:

- I — January 27 to February 6, 1987
- II — March 17 to March 19, 1987
- III — April 21 to June 28, 1987
- IV — October 6 to October 30, 1987
- V — January 26 to March 25, 1988
- VI — May 17 to May 19, 1988

In addition to these floorperiods, as of July 1, 1988, the Governor has called 3 special sessions, down from 7 special sessions called during the 1985-86 legislative session. Two acts resulted from the September 1987 Special Session, 5 from the November 1987 Special Session and 2 from the June 1988 Special Session.

The 1987 Legislature enacted 422 acts through June 1988, compared to 340 acts enacted by the 1985 Legislature. The number of bills introduced decreased to 1,654, compared to 1,721 in the previous session. Of the bills introduced, 1,042 originated in the Assembly and 612 originated in the Senate. The 1987 Legislature enacted 25.5% of the bills introduced, compared to 19.8% enacted by the 1985 Legislature. In addition, the ideas contained in many unenacted bills were, in the legislative process, grafted onto other proposals. These figures do not tell the entire story; many bills were redrafted a number of times prior to introduction and many bills had one or more complete substitute versions. As of July 1, 1988, the Legislative Reference Bureau has received 15,482 drafting requests during the 1987-88 legislative session compared to 15,205 drafting requests received during the 1985-86 legislative session.

Governor Tommy Thompson vetoed 38 bills in their entirety during the 1987-88 legislative session, up from 7 totally vetoed bills in the 1985-86 legislative session. The Governor vetoed parts of 20 appropriation bills, up from 7 partially vetoed in the prior session. The Legislature has not overridden any of the Governor's vetoes.

HIGHLIGHTS

Agriculture

Act 27 (SB-100) revises the nonpoint source grant program in DNR and consolidates DATCP's soil and water conservation programs. The act:

1. Gives DATCP responsibility for agricultural-related aspects of the nonpoint project planning process and gives DNR and DATCP specified joint responsibility such as developing a grant application, reporting system and evaluation process.

2. Deletes the farmers fund program, erosion control program and state aids for conservation activities program and creates a new soil and water resource management program.

3. Authorizes DATCP to award grants annually to county land conservation committees that have a workload allocation plan approved by DATCP.

4. Specifies the conditions under which DATCP may make grants for the construction of animal waste management facilities.

The act:

2. Increases the amount that WHEDA may guarantee under the agricultural production loan guarantee program by $5,000,000.

3. Establishes a drought assistance agricultural production loan guarantee program. Under the program, WHEDA may guarantee 90% of the principal amount of loans provided to farmers for drought relief by participating lenders. WHEDA may not guarantee a drought assistance loan with a principal amount greater than $10,000 or with a term longer than 3 years. The act permits WHEDA to guarantee drought assistance loans in an aggregate principal amount not exceeding $35,000,000. WHEDA may not guarantee new drought assistance loans after February 28, 1989.

Beverages

Act 121 (AB-132) establishes statewide mandatory closing hours from 2 a.m. to 6 a.m. for businesses that sell alcohol beverages for consumption on the premises, except on Saturday and Sunday when the closing hours are from 2:30 a.m. to 6 a.m. and except that there are no mandatory closing hours on January 1.

Business and Consumer Law

Act 13 (AB-301) grants immunity from personal liability, with some exceptions, to certain corporate directors and officers and to volunteers of nonprofit corporations. Under the act, a director of a for-profit corporation, including a stock insurance corporation, is not personally liable to the corporation, its shareholders or a person asserting rights on behalf of the corporation or its shareholders for acts as director unless an act constitutes self-dealing, wilful misconduct or a knowing violation of criminal law.

For officials of entities other than for-profit corporations (including nonprofit corporations, cooperatives, credit unions, mutual savings and loan associations, medical and dental societies and certain insurers) the immunity is broader. The immunity applies to both directors and officers and includes proceedings brought by creditors and 3rd parties. However, the immunity does not shield the conduct described above and does not apply to actions brought by the government or brought under certain state or federal statutes.

Under the act, a person who volunteers his or her services to a nonprofit corporation is, with certain exceptions, immune from personal liability for his or her acts as a volunteer.

The act also expands the circumstances under which a corporation or other entity must pay for the costs of litigation and personal liability incurred by directors and officers.

Act 27 (SB-100) exempts common stock issued by a corporation in a public offering from registration if the offering is firmly underwritten (i.e., underwriters have committed to maintain a market for the stock and, if necessary, buy any shares offered to them) and a final prospectus, accompanied by a $200 fee, is filed with the Commissioner of Securities within 10 business days after the first sale in Wisconsin.

The act also creates a Development Finance Board in DOD. The Development Finance Board may award grants and make loans to businesses, local governing bodies or consortia of businesses and higher educational institutions, subject to certain limitations. The Development Finance Board may award grants and make loans for business development projects, including technology development, customized labor training and other major economic development projects (see also Economic Development and Investment, Act 399).

Act 45 (Sept. 1987 Spec. Sess. AB-2) limits the ability of a person who acquires 10% or more of the voting power of a corporation to engage in a business combination with the corporation for 3 years after the stock purchase and, to a lesser extent, after the 3-year period. A business combination includes a merger, sale of assets, transfer of stock, liquidation and other specified transactions. This restriction terminates on September 10, 1991.

The act also prohibits directors or officers from taking the following actions during a take-over offer unless shareholders approve the action:

1. Purchasing the corporation's shares at a price above the market value from a person who recently acquired a certain percentage of the corporation's shares (commonly called "greenmail").
2. Selling a certain portion of the corporation's assets (commonly called "selling the crown jewels") unless the corporation has outside directors (directors who are not officers or employees of the corporation) and those directors vote not to be subject to this restriction (see also Securities, Act 44).

Act 328 (SB-265) creates a development zone program and provides tax credits to certain businesses located in development zones. Under the act, the governing body of a city, village or town may submit an application to DOD nominating an area in the city, village or town as a development zone. DOD may designate an area as a development zone after considering certain criteria. DOD may designate no more than 8 development zones.

After a development zone is designated, DOD must administer the development zone, together with the governing body of the city, village or town in which the development zone is located. DOD, aided by the governing body, must also certify businesses as eligible for the tax credits created under the act (see also Taxation).

Children

Act 27 (SB-100) permits a juvenile court judge to impose sanctions on a child if the child violates a condition of his or her dispositional order. The sanctions include:

1. Placing the child in secure detention for up to 10 days.
2. Suspending or limiting the child's motor vehicle, hunting or fishing license for up to 90 days.
3. Home detention for up to 20 days.
4. Participation in a supervised work program for up to 25 hours.

Act 285 (AB-389) makes various changes relating to court dispositions for juveniles. The act:

1. Creates a definition of "habitual truant" for use in juvenile court procedures and school attendance enforcement procedures. Preexisting law used the term "habitual truant" but lacked a definition.

2. Permits a juvenile court judge to order a child into an educational program, and requires the school district in which the child is enrolled to pay tuition for the pupil.

3. Expands the dispositional alternatives available to a juvenile court judge if he or she finds that a child is in need of protection or services or has adjudicated a child delinquent based on habitual truancy.

4. Expands the dispositional alternatives available to a municipal court judge if the judge finds that a child has violated a municipal truancy ordinance.

5. Creates a penalty for contributing to the truancy of a child (see also Education).

Act 336 (AB-390) prohibits the sale or distribution of cigarettes and tobacco products to minors, beginning July 1, 1989. The act also:

1. Makes it illegal for a minor to buy or attempt to buy cigarettes or tobacco products or to misrepresent his or her age to receive cigarettes or tobacco products.

2. Prohibits placing cigarette vending machines within 500 feet of a school.

3. Requires retailers of cigarettes and tobacco products to post notices stating that the sale of cigarettes and tobacco products to minors is illegal.

Constitutional Amendments

Enrolled Joint Resolution 3 (Assembly Joint Resolution 2), proposed by the 1987 Legislature on 2nd consideration, excepts on-track pari-mutuel betting from the constitutional prohibition against legislative authorization of lotteries. The state is prohibited from owning or operating any facility or enterprise and from leasing any state-owned land to any other owner or operator for pari-mutuel betting. The proposal was ratified by the electorate on April 7, 1987.

Enrolled Joint Resolution 4 (Assembly Joint Resolution 3), proposed by the 1987 Legislature on 2nd consideration, authorizes the creation of a Wisconsin state lottery to be operated by the state as provided by law. The expenditure of public funds or of revenues from the lottery to engage in promotional advertising of the lottery is prohibited. Any lottery advertising must indicate the odds of winning for each prize amount offered. The net proceeds of the lottery must be used for property tax relief. The proposal was ratified by the electorate on April 7, 1987.

Enrolled Joint Resolution 47 (Senate Joint Resolution 53), proposed by the 1987 Legislature on first consideration, makes the office of surveyor a required constitutional county office to be filled by election or, at the option of the county, to be filled by appointment. When not filled by election, the surveyor function can be assigned to any other county office or can be vested in a multicounty surveyor in combination with other counties.

Enrolled Joint Resolution 74 (Assembly Joint Resolution 117), proposed by the 1987 Legislature on first consideration, allows the Legislature to authorize state income tax credits or refunds for property or sales taxes due in this state if the credits or refunds are classified reasonably and based on the ability to pay.

Enrolled Joint Resolution 75 (Assembly Joint Resolution 118), proposed by the 1987 Legislature on first consideration, abolishes, over a 10-year period, the use of the property tax for school operations.

Enrolled Joint Resolution 76 (Senate Joint Resolution 71), proposed by the 1987 Legislature on first consideration, provides that when approving an appropriation bill in part, the governor may not create a new word by rejecting individual letters in the words of the bill.

Correctional System

Act 5 (SB-54) directs DHSS to establish a state prison in the village of Sturtevant in Racine county. DHSS must also create a procedure to solicit responses from communities interested in having minimum security state prisons.

Crimes

Act 332 (SB-203) revises numerous crimes against children. The act broadens the coverage of several crimes, such as incest and sexual assault, to provide penalties for persons who are responsible for children, know of the potential or actual harm and are capable of taking action but fail to act to prevent the harm. The act also creates various new crimes, including prohibitions against causing mental harm to a child, possessing child pornography and possessing a weapon on school premises.

Act 412 (Nov. 1987 Spec. Sess. AB-8) requires a judge to make a parole eligibility determination regarding any person who is sentenced to life imprisonment. The judge has 2 options: to provide that ordinary parole eligibility applies, or to provide a parole eligibility date that is later than the ordinary parole eligibility date. The act prohibits the sentencing commission from providing guidelines for judges to use regarding these determinations. The crimes punishable by life imprisonment are first-degree murder, treason, and under certain circumstances, kidnapping, taking hostages and tampering with household products.

Act 416 (Nov. 1987 Spec. Sess. AB-10) revises the obscenity law that was invalidated in 1980. The act provides definitions of "obscene material," "obscene performance" and "sexual conduct." Materials or performances are obscene if:

1. The average person, applying contemporary community standards, would find they appeal to prurient interest if taken as a whole;
2. Under contemporary community standards, they describe or show sexual conduct in a patently offensive way; and
3. They lack serious literary, artistic, political, educational or scientific value if taken as a whole.

The community standards must be applicable statewide. The types of materials covered are writings, pictures, sound recordings and films, as under the current law.

The act revises the current obscenity prohibitions so that obscenity violations either are carried out for commercial purposes or involve a minor. Penalties vary depending on the number of prior obscenity law violations or on whether a wholesale transfer or distribution of obscene material occurs.

Before any state obscenity law prosecution is started, the district attorney must submit the case for review by DOJ and may begin the prosecution only with the Attorney General's authorization. Counties may enact ordinances identical to the state obscenity law and may prosecute these ordinance violations without the Attorney General's authorization.

The act provides exemptions for employees and officials of libraries and educational institutions. Contract printers are exempt regarding the printing of material that is not subject to their editorial control.

Domestic Relations

Act 355 (AB-205) changes the child custody and visitation laws. Under preexisting law a court was permitted to order joint custody only if the parties agreed to joint custody and joint custody was in the child's best interest. This act permits a court to order joint custody if doing so is in the child's best interest and either of the following applies:

1. Both parties agree to joint custody.

2. The parties do not agree to joint custody but one party requests joint custody and the court specifically finds that: (a) both parties are capable of performing parental duties and wish to have an active role in raising the child; (b) there are no conditions that would interfere with the exercise of joint custody; and (c) the parties will be able to cooperate in the future decision making required by an award of joint custody.

The act also requires counties to either establish a family court counseling office to provide mediation, or to contract with one or more public or private entities in the county or a contiguous county to provide mediation. If the family court counseling office option is selected, the county may direct that the office provide legal custody or physical placement studies.

Act 393 (SB-566) makes various changes in the laws governing property held by married persons. The act:

1. Creates statutory terminable individual property classification agreements whereby spouses may classify their property as the individual property of the owning spouse or as marital property. If there is no disclosure of assets and liabilities before or contemporaneously with the execution of an agreement, the agreement terminates 3 years after the date both spouses have signed it. Spouses may enter into only one agreement for which disclosure of assets and liabilities is not provided.

2. Provides a new management and control option for a spouse who holds the following types of business property not also held by the other spouse: a) an interest in a partnership held as a general partner or an interest in a joint venture held as a participant; b) an interest in a professional corporation, professional association or similar entity held as a stockholder or member; and c) an interest in a corporation, the stock of which is not publicly traded.

3. Provides that both spouses must be domiciled in this state before the marital property law generally applies to the spouses. The act also provides that the marital property law generally does not apply when one or both spouses are not domiciled in this state.

4. Clarifies payout protections for insurers.

Education

Act 285 (AB-389) authorizes a county, city, village or town to enact an ordinance prohibiting a child from habitual truancy. The act specifies the dispositional alternatives that the ordinance may make available to the court: suspending the child's driver's license, ordering the child to participate in counseling, community service or a supervised work program, ordering the child to remain at home or ordering the child to attend one of several specified education programs. The act also requires each school board to adopt a truancy plan based on recommendations made by a county-wide truancy committee, revises the requirements for school district notification of the parent or guardian of a habitual truant and makes it a crime to encourage or contribute to a child's truancy (see also Children).

Act 303 (SB-163) prohibits an official, employe or agent of a school board from subjecting a pupil enrolled in a school district to corporal punishment, with certain exceptions. The act defines "corporal punishment" as the intentional infliction of physical pain as a means of discipline.

Employment

Act 38 (AB-483) makes major structural changes in unemployment compensation financing, taxation, benefits, coverage and administration. Most changes are phased in beginning in April, 1989. The act:

1. Requires all employers whose employes are covered by the unemployment compensation law to file quarterly reports with DILHR showing wages paid to their employes. Formerly, wage reports were only required after a benefit claim was filed.

2. Restructures tax schedules and changes tax rates.

3. Changes the "base period" (work period on which a claim is based) from the 52 weeks preceding the first week of benefits to the 1st 4 of the last 5 most recently completed calendar quarters preceding the start of the employe's "benefit year" (period during which benefits are potentially payable).

4. Changes the method of charging benefits so that all employers during an employe's base period are charged proportionately for benefits. Under former law, the charges were usually sequenced as benefit payments were made, with the most recent employer usually charged first.

5. Changes the method of calculating benefits so that an employe's uniform weekly benefit rate is 4% of the employe's wages during that quarter of an employe's base period in which the employe received the highest wages, but not more than $200. Formerly, an employe received 50% of his or her average weekly wage with the employer being charged in a given week, but not more than $196.

6. Requires an employe to have earned wages equal to at least 40 times his or her weekly benefit rate during his or her base period in employment covered by the unemployment compensation law and to have combined wages outside the quarter during which the employe earns the highest wages of at least 13 times the employe's weekly benefit rate in order to receive benefits. Formerly, an employe was required to have worked in employment covered by the unemployment compensation law for at least 19 weeks and earned wages equal to at least 19 times 30% of the state's average wages per week in order to receive benefits.

7. Changes numerous provisions that disqualify employes or suspend benefit rights under certain circumstances to conform with the revisions in benefit qualifications and computations made by the act.

The act also makes changes in the laws governing coverage of corporate officers, charging of certain benefits, meetings of the Council on Unemployment Compensation, benefit disqualification issues initiated by DILHR, appeals by DILHR of unemployment compensation decisions, suspension of agents who appear before DILHR, write-off of overdrafts in employer accounts, delinquent reporting fees, the term of election for financing benefits on a reimbursement basis and penalties for various acts of concealment.

Act 287 (SB-235) requires an employer in this state with more than 50 employes to provide family leave and medical leave to certain employes. The act provides 6 weeks of family leave during a 12-month period for the birth or adoption of the employe's child. The act also provides, within a 12-month period, 2 weeks of family leave to allow an employe to care for a child, spouse or parent with a serious health condition and 2 weeks of medical leave for an employe's serious health condition.

The act does not require an employer to pay an employe who is on family leave or medical leave, but an employe may substitute other types of paid or unpaid leave for portions of family leave or medical leave. The act requires an employer to continue to pay its share of the premium, if any, for an employe's health insurance during family leave or medical leave. However, an employer may require an employe to deposit an amount equal to the health insurance premium into an escrow account. If the employe leaves his or her job during a period of family leave or medical leave or within 30 days after the leave ends, the employer may deduct from the escrow account the amount of premiums it paid.

An employe who believes that his or her rights under the act have been violated may file a complaint with DILHR. DILHR must attempt to resolve the matter and, if necessary, hold a hearing. The act permits an employe to begin a civil action to collect damages for any violation after exhausting administrative review.

Gambling

Act 119 (SB-336) creates a state lottery. The act:

1. Establishes an independent, gubernatorily-nominated 5-member Lottery Board to administer the lottery.
2. Requires the governor to nominate an Executive Director, who appoints other Lottery Board employes. The Executive Director, with the assistance of DOJ, must conduct a background investigation of all employes before appointment.
3. Creates a lottery fund consisting of a loan of $5,000,000 in general purpose revenues (payable, with interest, one year from the date of the first ticket sale), lottery ticket sales revenues and nonrefundable fees. The fund must be used to pay prizes equal to at least 50% of lottery ticket sale revenues, administration expenses, loan repayments, payments to contractors and others and property tax relief, although no distribution method for the property tax relief is specified.
4. Requires state income taxes to be withheld from prizes of at least $2,000, and delinquent state taxes, child support or debts owed the state to be withheld from prizes of at least $1,000.
5. Prohibits a private person from contracting for the entire operation or management of the lottery.
6. Provides for the selection and compensation of lottery ticket retailers under criteria developed by the Lottery Board and establishes requirements for lottery retailer contracts.
7. Prohibits the expenditure of public funds or lottery revenues for promotional advertising of the state lottery, but permits such advertising by lottery supplies vendors and lottery ticket retailers using non-public funds.
8. Prohibits lottery ticket purchases by or sales to minors.
9. Requires the Lottery Board to specify the types of games to be played in the state lottery, except that sweepstakes are prohibited (see also Act 399).

Act 354 (SB-444) creates a 5-member Racing Board, provides for gubernatorial appointment of the Director of the Racing Board and regulates horse racing, dog racing, snowmobile racing and on-track pari-mutuel betting. The act:

1. Requires a license for the ownership and operation of a race track where horses or dogs are raced and for the management of the track. The Racing Board issues licenses, subject to a public hearing and specified qualifications. A person is limited to one license to own a track and one license to manage a track.
2. Requires a license for occupations related to racing.
3. Requires that 3 stewards, 2 employed or under contract with the Racing Board and one approved by the Racing Board, preside over races that are not at fairs.
4. Sets the minimum bet at $2.00 and specifies that 83% of the total amount bet goes to winning bets in single pool races and 77% of the total bet amount goes to winning bets in multiple pool races. Eight percent of total bets goes to winning horses and 4.5% of total bets goes to winning dogs.
5. Imposes a state tax ranging from 1% to 8% of total daily bets, depending on whether a race is between horses or dogs and on the size of the total daily amount bet.
6. Earmarks breakage (the odd cents by which the amount payable on each dollar wagered on a race exceeds a multiple of 10 cents) for purse supplements for horses foaled in Wisconsin and 3-year-olds and for Racing Board operations.
7. Requires the Racing Board to promulgate and enforce rules governing the administration of medication to race animals. All horses must be tested for violation of the rules before races and winning horses must be tested after a race.

Health and Social Services

Act 27 (SB-100) reduces AFDC benefits by almost 6%. The act also requires, if federal approval is granted, recipients of AFDC who are 13 to 19 years of age to attend school if they have not graduated from high school or obtained a declaration of equivalency of high school graduation (see also Act 399).

The act eliminates the capital expenditure review program, which required DHSS to review and approve certain hospital capital expenditures, purchase of a hospital, additions to a hospital's approved bed capacity, construction or operation of ambulatory surgery centers or home health agencies, addition of psychiatric or chemical dependency beds, implementation of programs for organ transplants, neonatal intensive care and cardiac services, and implementation of burn centers and air transport services.

Act 70 (AB-678) changes various laws relating to the testing of persons for the presence of an antibody to the virus that causes AIDS (see also Act 399). The act:

1. Expands the list of persons to whom or circumstances under which disclosure of the results of a test for the presence of the AIDS virus may be made. The act restricts health care providers from access, unless the health care provider provides care to the person with a positive AIDS virus test result, and restricts the admissibility of certain AIDS-related evidence in court.

2. Specifies that records made by emergency services personnel are patient health care records and prohibits emergency services personnel from making certain medical and other information available concerning accident and emergency victims.

The surcharge is equal to 50% of the fine and penalty assessment imposed; the moneys must be used by DHSS for programs providing prevention, intervention and treatment for alcohol and other drug abuse problems.

4. Revises penalties for various crimes associated with heroin, phencyclidine (PCP), psilocin, psilocybin, amphetamine, methamphetamine, lysergic acid diethylamide (LSD) and tetrahydrocannabinols (THC — the chemical that is the chief intoxicant in marijuana).

5. Provides that a person is guilty of 2nd-degree murder if he or she illegally manufactures, delivers or administers a dangerous drug and someone dies as a result of using that drug.

Expands the 3rd and 4th standards of dangerousness to permit commitment or emergency detention if, regardless of the availability of protection or treatment in the community, a person will not use the community services or if food, shelter and other care received by the person are provided by family members or nonprofessionals.

The act requires health care providers and state agencies to submit information the Office of Health Care Information deems necessary. Further, the act requires that a hospital publish a newspaper notice 10 days before the hospital institutes a rate increase. Funding for the Office of Health Care Information is provided by hospital assessments based proportionately on hospitals' gross private-pay patient revenues. The act also permits assessments of ambulatory surgery centers.

Act 413 (Nov. 1987 Spec. Sess. AB-5) expands employment and training programs for recipients of AFDC by increasing funding for existing programs, creating a pilot program to provide jobs for AFDC recipients who graduate from high school and expanding eligibility for child care funding for individuals who lose AFDC eligibility due to work. The act also extends eligibility for medical assistance to children under age 1 and to pregnant women whose family incomes do not exceed 120% of the poverty line. If federal funding becomes available for a portion of the costs, the act further extends medical assistance eligibility to children under age 1 and pregnant women whose family incomes do not exceed 127% of the poverty line and to 1- and 2-year-old children whose family incomes do not exceed 100% of the poverty line.

Taxation

Act 27 (SB-100) exempts 60% of capital gain from the income tax and limits the amount of capital loss that may be offset against ordinary income in calculating the income tax. The act bases the corporate income and franchise taxes on the federal corporate income taxes. Formerly,

Wisconsin corporate income and franchise tax law, although borrowing certain elements from federal law, was not based on it.

The act phases out the inheritance and gift taxes in 5 annual steps beginning in 1988. The act creates a school property tax credit that is offset against individual income taxes and lowers the individual income tax rates. The act also raises the motor fuel and special fuel tax rates by 2 cents per gallon.

Act 328 (SB-265) in regard to economic activity in development zones, creates income tax and franchise tax credits for purchases of tangible personal property; creation of jobs; and acquisition, construction or repair of real property and payments of sales taxes on construction materials. The act also doubles the existing research credit (see also Business and Consumer Law).

Act 132 (SB-7) requires most motor vehicle operators and passengers to wear the safety belts installed in a vehicle by its manufacturer. Failure to comply with the safety belt use requirement subjects a person to a penalty. An operator is responsible for the compliance of a passenger 4 to 15 years old. The law includes exceptions for law enforcement officers, persons who cannot wear a safety belt for medical reasons and operators of and passengers in frequently stopping delivery vehicles and taxis.

Act 136 (SB-476) extends the 65 mile per hour speed limit established by Act 17 for rural interstate highways to certain other freeways located outside of urbanized areas that are either constructed to interstate highway standards or have 4 or more lanes and full control of access and can safely accommodate a 65 mile per hour limit. Under former law, payment bond protection extended only to subcontractors and suppliers of the prime contractor. The extension does not apply to DOT highway projects.

3. Repeals the conversion of certain major state aids to property tax credits applied directly against a taxpayer's property tax bill.

The act also makes flexible-time scheduling in state employment a permanent, rather than a pilot, program and removes the requirement that state employe performance evaluations be uniform.

Act 306 (AB-912) reassigns the position of Secretary of Employee Trust Funds from executive salary group 4 ($45,505 to $67,225 in 1987-88) to executive salary group 5 ($48,990 to $72,923 in 1987-88).

Act 331 (SB-570) changes the subjects of bargaining between the state and labor organizations representing state employes to remove the limitation that mandatory bargaining of wage rates be related to general salary scheduled adjustments and to make bargaining of assignment and reassignment of classifications to pay ranges and determination of an incumbent's status resulting from a position reallocation a mandatory subject instead of a prohibited subject. The act also permits, but does not require, bargaining concerning certain types of transfers between positions.

Act 340 (AB-795) reassigns the positions of Chancellor of the UW-Madison, currently in executive salary group 9 ($65,807 to $98,712 in 1987-88) and Chancellor of the UW-Milwaukee, currently in executive salary group 8 ($61,128 to $91,690 in 1987-88) to executive salary group 10 ($70,845 to $106,270 in 1987-88). State Finance

Act 4 (SB-26) requires the Governor to submit an annual state budget bill or bills to the Legislature in 1988 for the 1988-89 fiscal year.

Act 27 (SB-100) is the 1987-88 annual budget act and it makes numerous changes relating to state finance. The act:

1. Permits the Investment Board to contract with and delegate to investment advisers the control over assets from any fund or trust for which the board has managing authority. Under the act, the investment advisers may invest the assets in real estate, mortgages, equities, debt of out-of-state corporations and debt of foreign governments. The act permits the board to pay the advisers from the current income of the fund or trust being invested. The act also precludes the board from delegating management authority for more than 10% of the assets of the WRS trusts.

2. Changes the funding source for certain payments which the state makes to local governments for providing municipal services to state-owned facilities. Under the act, programs financed by program and segregated revenues, other than UW academic student fees, are charged for payments allocated to those programs. Formerly, all of these payments were made from general purpose revenues.

3. Requires the Investment Board to attempt to assure that 5% of the total funds the board spends for financial and investment analysis and for common stock and convertible bond brokerage commissions in each fiscal year is spent for the services of minority financial advisers or minority investment firms. The act also requires the board, as well as WHEDA, the Building Commission and the Wisconsin Health and Education Facilities Authority to report annually to DOA concerning certain procurements from minority businesses.

4. Authorizes the Investment Board to nominate an employe, board member or other representative to serve as a director of a corporation or other legal entity. The act also permits the board to have an employe or another representative represent the board in shareholder meetings. In addition, the act permits the board to have an employe serve as an officer of a corporation in which it owns stock. Under the act, a person who serves as a director, except an employe, may retain compensation received for such service.

Act 399 (AB-850) is the 1988-89 annual budget act and it makes numerous changes relating to state finance. The act:

1. Appropriates moneys to make rebate payments to the federal government on interest earned from the proceeds of state obligations, in order to maintain the excludability of the interest from the gross income of the persons to whom the obligations are incurred.

2. Places all positions of the Investment Board, except blue collar and clerical positions, in the unclassified service. Formerly, only the Executive Director, Executive Assistant to the Executive Director and 6 Investment Directors served in the unclassified service. The act also grants the board complete discretion to set the salaries of its unclassified employes, subject to budgetary limitations. Formerly, the board could only set initial compensation of unclassified employes within certain ranges, and the amount of annual compensation increases was limited. The act also permits the board to award bonus compensation to unclassified employes, subject to certain limitations. The cost of any increased compensation resulting from the changes is funded from the earnings of the moneys belonging to the state, local governments and annuitants which the board manages.

3. Provides that information about an uncashed, canceled state check is not open to the public until the earlier of 6 years after the check was issued or reissuance of the check. The state cancels an uncashed check after one year and will reissue the check for the next 5 years.

4. Clarifies that moneys deposited with the local government pooled-investment fund and invested by the Investment Board are protected by a state fund which repays governmental units for losses of moneys deposited with a bank or other public depository.

Major highway projects, unlike other construction projects undertaken by DOT, must be approved by the Legislature before they may be constructed.
2. Revises the formula for the distribution of highway-related transportation aids. Under the modified formula, a county or municipality receives aid on the basis of either a percentage of its multiyear average highway costs or a minimum payment guarantee per mile, whichever results in a greater payment. The formula includes adjustments to limit the percentage of increases and decreases in aid payments from year to year. The act also eliminates the conversion of general transportation aids to property tax credits.

3. Provides a 4% increase in 1988 connecting highway per mile aids and a 4.7% increase in these aids in 1989.

The act requires DOT to offer to purchase an entire parcel of residential property if DOT seeks to acquire more than 10% of the land associated with that property in its acquisition of lands for the lake arterial major highway project in Milwaukee County.

The act makes several modifications to the urban mass transit operating assistance program. The act:

1. Includes depreciation on certain facilities and equipment as operating costs for privately owned systems.

2. Provides for the audit by DOT of the performance of privately owned systems and requires local units of government to repay state aids based on differences between projected financial data and contract compliance audits.

3. Allows areas that include a city or village having a population of 2,500 or more to participate in the urban mass transit operating assistance program.

The act designates several additional highway routes as memorials to Wisconsin veterans (see also Act 117).

MOTOR VEHICLE DEALERS AND MOTOR CARRIERS

Act 27 (SB-100) transfers several functions from DOR to DOT relating to the reporting, collecting and auditing of taxes on motor fuel and special fuel that is imported into the state in motor vehicle tanks. The act authorizes DOT to suspend the Wisconsin vehicle registration of a person who fails to pay motor fuel or special fuel taxes in a timely manner or who is convicted of evading these taxes (see also Act 369).

3. Authorizes DOT to suspend or refuse a registration, permit or certificate issued by DOT for failure to pay or report certain fuel taxes.
4. Authorizes DOT to issue 72-hour trip permits and to waive the fees for the permits under conditions of special transportation need or certain other circumstances.

TRAFFIC AND PARKING REGULATION

Act 3 (AB-30) revises the laws relating to operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol or other drugs (see HIGHLIGHTS).

Act 17 (SB-166) establishes a speed limit of 65 miles per hour for rural interstate highways (see also Act 136 and HIGHLIGHTS).

Act 25 (AB-27) specifies that the operator of a vehicle approaching a stop sign at an intersection must stop and yield the right-of-way to other vehicles in or approaching the intersection on a highway that is not controlled by a stop sign even if the highway that is not controlled by a stop sign is not designated a through highway by the local authorities.

Act 28 (SB-15) provides that at an intersection where traffic is not controlled by a traffic control device, the operator of a vehicle approaching the intersection on a highway that terminates at the intersection must yield the right-of-way to vehicles approaching the intersection on the highway that continues through the intersection.

Act 34 (AB-44) authorizes a police officer, sheriff or deputy sheriff employed by a unit of government whose boundary is a highway to enforce traffic regulations on the entire width of that highway and on the entire intersection of that highway and a highway located in an adjacent jurisdiction (see also Act 399).

Act 125 (AB-410) requires school buses to use flashing red lights when stopped in certain marked school zones on roadways bordering schools unless the school zones are located in business or residence areas having sidewalks and curbs or unless prohibited by local ordinance.

Act 126 (AB-490) provides that a law enforcement officer operating a police vehicle may exceed the speed limit without giving audible and visual signals to other vehicles on the highway if the officer is responding to a call that may involve a felony and knowledge of the officer's presence may endanger a person's safety or interfere with the apprehension of a suspect.

See also Act 34, which provided similar authority for certain traffic regulations.
