Summary of the 1989-90 Wisconsin Legislative Session

1989 WISCONSIN ACTS 1 to 368

INTRODUCTION

This bulletin provides an overview of the 1989-90 legislative session through June 15, 1990. The main body of the bulletin is divided according to subject matter; beneath each subject heading the acts of the Legislature are individually described. The significant provisions of any act affecting more than one area of state law (including Acts 31 and 336, the budget act and the state agency adjustment act) are described separately under the appropriate subject headings. The bulletin also includes summaries of the more important enrolled joint resolutions. Included in the HIGHLIGHTS section of the bulletin are synopses of those acts and joint resolutions that were of particular interest to the Legislature. Commonly used abbreviations are listed in section VI of the bulletin.

The 1989 Legislature took its oath of office on January 3, 1989. Its regular session was organized into 7 floorperiods:

- I — January 24 to February 3, 1989
- II — March 14 to March 16, 1989
- III — April 25 to April 27, 1989
- IV — May 16 to June 30, 1989
- V — October 3 to November 10, 1989
- VI — January 23 to March 23, 1990
- VII — May 15 to May 17, 1990

In addition to these floorperiods, as of June 15, 1990, the Governor has called 2 special sessions, down from 3 special sessions called during the 1987-88 legislative session. Seven acts resulted from the October 1989 Special Session.

Statistics for the 1989-90 legislative session through June 15, 1990, and for the previous 4 sessions are provided below.

HIGHLIGHTS

Agriculture

Act 336 (SB-542) makes changes in the law covering dairy plant financial security requirements. The act:

1. Requires a dairy plant to provide security or enter into a trusteeship unless certain minimum financial standards are met.
2. Requires dairy plant operators to pay milk producers once each month.
3. Requires that plant operators file quarterly financial statements with DATCP.
4. Requires out-of-state dairy plants that receive milk from Wisconsin to meet the same security requirements as in-state plants, except that out-of-state plants need not be licensed in Wisconsin.

Act 353 (SB-344) prohibits any person from administering supplemental bovine somatotropin (BST) to cows until June 1, 1991. The act also establishes an Agricultural Technology and Family Farm Institute in the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences at the UW-Madison and directs the Board of Regents to establish extension programs to educate consumers about biotechnology processes and products and to conduct research on the effects of using BST in commercial milk production.

Business and Consumer Law

Act 303 (AB-780) rewrites Wisconsin's business corporation law, which regulates the organization and certain on-going activities of for-profit, stock corporations. Many of the act's provisions parallel the Revised Model Business Corporation Act prepared by a committee of the American Bar Association. Among the many changes, the act:

1. Broadens the circumstances in which a shareholder may dissent from a corporate action and receive payment from the corporation for the fair value of his or her shares, and substantially changes the procedure for asserting dissenters' rights.
2. Creates a procedure for a share exchange, by which a corporation acquires one or more classes or series of stock of another corporation.
3. Permits corporations to allow shareholders to use cumulative voting in elections for directors. Cumulative voting means a shareholder multiplies the number of votes that he or she is entitled to cast by the number of directors for whom he or she is entitled to vote and casts the product for a single candidate or distributes the product among 2 or more candidates.
4. Makes a number of changes in the procedures governing derivative actions (actions brought by shareholders asserting a right or remedy on behalf of the corporation), including eliminating the obligation of shareholders bringing the action to post security, in certain circumstances, for the costs of the litigation. However, the act allows the court at the end of the litigation to require shareholders to pay the defendant's costs.
5. Expands the activities that a foreign corporation may engage in in Wisconsin without obtaining a certificate of authority from the Secretary of State.
6. Makes various changes in the procedure and fees for filing corporate documents with the Secretary of State.

Act 307 (SB-252) makes various changes in the requirements for owners and operators of cemeteries and sales of cemetery merchandise, lots and mausoleum spaces beginning on November 1, 1991 (see also Other Business and Consumer Law, Act 95). With various exceptions, the act:

1. Establishes various requirements for preneed sales. A "preneed sale" is a sale of cemetery merchandise (a monument, nameplate, urn or other good associated with a burial, except a casket or burial vault) that is to be delivered after the date of the initial payment under the preneed sales contract, or a sale of a mausoleum space that is not ready for burial on the date of the sale of the mausoleum space. The act requires the preneed seller to deposit a specified amount of each payment made by the purchaser into a trust account and prohibits the seller from withdrawing the funds until all of the terms of the contract have been fulfilled, unless the preneed sale is for the sale of cemetery merchandise that is delivered within 180 days after the date of the sale, and prescribes requirements for the investment of preneed trust funds, and also requires a preneed seller to be registered with DORL.

2. Requires cemeteries and preneed sellers to file annual reports with DORL that include accountings of cemetery and preneed trust funds.

3. Establishes a cemetery consumer protection fund, by requiring each preneed seller to pay to DORL $5 for each preneed sales contract entered into by the preneed seller, to reimburse consumers for losses resulting from the illegal, unprofessional or unethical conduct of cemetery owners and operators, cemetery salespersons and preneed sellers.

4. Requires a newly established cemetery to be an endowment care cemetery (a cemetery determined by DORL to have a specified amount of funds available for the care of the cemetery) and to consist of at least 20 contiguous acres, and, beginning on November 1, 1992, prohibits a person from selling a cemetery lot or mausoleum space in a cemetery that is not an endowment care cemetery unless the contract for sale specifies that the cemetery is not an endowment care cemetery and that the cemetery may not have sufficient funds to provide for the care of the lot or space.

5. Exempts certain religious-affiliated cemeteries from various requirements applicable to other cemeteries.

6. Prescribes requirements for the resale of abandoned cemetery lots.

7. Transfers jurisdiction over cemetery associations (7 or more residents of the same county who organize to own and operate a cemetery) from the Registers of Deeds to the Secretary of State.

Act 328 (SB-10) permits a rental car company to hold a renter or authorized driver liable for damage to a rental car for no more than the costs of repairing the car or its fair market value, whichever is less, and for towing and limited storage costs. The act also regulates the sale of collision damage waivers, which rental car companies offer to sell renters to eliminate or reduce renters' liability for damage to rental cars.

Children

Act 31 (SB-31) requires a juvenile court judge to order 100 hours of community service work and to revoke for not less than 6 months nor more than 2 years the operating privilege of a child who is adjudicated delinquent for the possession of a controlled substance in or within 1,000 feet of a school, school bus, public park, public swimming pool, youth center or community center. The act also authorizes a juvenile court judge to combine these dispositions with placement in a correctional school (see also Crimes).

Act 121 (Oct. 1989 Spec. Sess. AB-9) requires a juvenile court to order a forfeiture or to suspend or revoke the motor vehicle operating privilege of a child who has committed a violation of the laws regulating controlled substances (dangerous drugs). The court may stay execution of such an order if the child agrees to submit to alcohol or other drug abuse (AODA) assessment, treatment or education. The act also makes the citation procedure and dispositional alternatives that are applicable to juveniles who commit beer and liquor violations applicable to juveniles who commit drug paraphernalia violations. Finally, the act authorizes a juvenile court to order AODA treatment or education for the parent, guardian or legal custodian of a child found delinquent or in need of protection or services for use or abuse of an alcohol beverage or controlled substance or for possession or attempted possession of a controlled substance (see also Act 336).

Constitutional Amendments

Enrolled Joint Resolution 39 (Senate Joint Resolution 11), proposed by the 1989 Legislature on 2nd consideration, precludes the Governor, in approving an enrolled appropriation bill in part, from creating a new word by rejecting individual letters in the words of the bill. The amendment was ratified by the electorate on April 3, 1990.

Correctional System

Act 31 (SB-31) created a department of corrections (DOC), effective January 1, 1990, and transfers most authority for administering adult and juvenile correctional institutions and administering probation and parole from DHSS to DOC. The act also creates a parole commission in DOA to exercise discretionary parole-granting authority and a division of corrections hearings in DOA to handle probation and parole revocation proceedings. Despite these changes, the act also directed DHSS to prepare legislation, effective January 1, 1990, to retain juvenile corrections functions in DHSS and to place the parole commission in DOC (see also Act 107).

Courts and Procedure

Act 278 (SB-259) replaces most of the specific items of property exempt from seizure to satisfy a judgment and other court proceeding with broad categories of exempt property and provides specific procedures to claim and value exempt property.

Crimes

Act 121 (Oct. 1989 Spec. Sess. AB-9) makes various changes relating to crimes. The act:

1. Provides penalties for manufacturing, delivering or possessing cocaine base (this includes "crack" cocaine).
2. Revises penalties for controlled substances (dangerous drugs) crimes involving large amounts of cocaine, heroin, phencyclidine, amphetamine or methamphetamine.
3. Provides penalties for using a child to illegally manufacture or deliver a controlled substance.
4. Provides increased penalties for a person who obstructs a law enforcement officer by giving false information or placing physical evidence with an intent to mislead the officer.
5. Provides penalties for illegally attempting to possess a controlled substance.
6. Restricts the manufacture, delivery, possession and advertising of drug paraphernalia.
7. Makes all of the minimum sentence provisions under the uniform controlled substances act presumptive minimum sentences, allowing courts to order probation or a lesser sentence for defendants subject to these provisions if the court finds that the best interests of the community will be served and the public will not be harmed.

Domestic Relations

Act 212 (SB-253) makes various changes in the laws relating to child support and paternity. The act:

1. Prohibits retroactive modification of support orders entered by courts in other states.
2. Permits a court in a child support action to require a parent to seek employment.
3. Creates a presumption of paternity based on the written acknowledgment of paternity by a child's mother and a man presumed to be the child's father.
4. Permits a court to consider a parent's earning capacity in setting child support.
5. Specifies the county in which petitions for enforcement or modification of child support, family support or maintenance are required to be filed.
6. Requires a person who owes child support, family support or maintenance to notify the clerk of court of any change of employer and any substantial change in the amount of his or her income within 10 days of the change.

Act 218 (AB-107) creates a procedure to divide the accumulated rights and benefits of a public employe under WRS in accordance with a qualified domestic relations order, which means a judgment, decree or other order issued by a court pursuant to a domestic relations law of any state or territory of the United States that provides for the division of the employe's accumulated rights and benefits under WRS and meets certain other requirements. The procedure is based upon the present value of the benefits under WRS that have been accrued to the date that the employe's marriage is terminated by a court.

Education

Act 114 (AB-146) substantially revises procedures for changing school district boundaries. The act expands the membership of the School District Boundary Appeal Board, creates appeal panels composed of members of the board to hear certain appeals, and creates new procedures for school district consolidations and dissolutions and for the detachment of territory from one school district and its attachment to an adjoining school district. The act also revises the criteria that must be used in making school district reorganizations and creates a state aid incentive for school district consolidations (see also Primary and Secondary Education, Act 287).

Act 336 (SB-542) permits approximately 930 pupils from low-income families in the city of Milwaukee to attend, at state expense, nonsectarian private schools located in the city. Payments by the state to such schools are offset by a reduction in state aid to the Milwaukee public schools. Pupils must be selected for the program on a random basis. The act specifies performance standards for the private schools participating in the program.

Elections

Act 192 (SB-260) makes numerous changes in election and campaign finance laws, including:

1. Requiring municipal governing bodies and boards of election commissioners to appoint the nominees of party committeemen and committeewomen for election to official positions, unless the State Elections Board, upon showing of cause after hearing and subject to court appeal, permits nonappointment. Formerly, governing bodies and boards of election commissioners had discretion to reject nominations for any reason.

2. Broadening the authority of the State Elections Board to review compliance with laws relating to election administration and voting qualifications, and to order compliance with the law.

3. Removing the requirement that there be a showing of facts in circuit court that could constitute cause for the recall of a municipal or school district officer, and instead requiring that a petition for the recall of such an officer contain a statement of the reason for the proposed recall. The act also changes various petition requirements for recall elections.

4. Broadening polling place accessibility requirements to apply to all elderly and handicapped individuals, instead of only individuals in wheelchairs, but permitting the State Elections Board to exempt any polling place from accessibility requirements, and permitting municipal clerks and boards of election commissioners to reassign voters from nonaccessible to accessible polling places.

5. Eliminating the requirement that voter registration forms be sworn before an officer who is authorized to administer oaths and simplifying other registration requirements for voters who are living away from home.

6. Permitting special voting deputies to be appointed to conduct voting in certain retirement homes and community-based residential facilities.

7. Permitting members of the armed forces and certain other individuals who are living away from home to vote in state and local elections by casting a blank write-in absentee ballot.

8. Establishing uniform petition requirements for all petitions for referenda.

Employment

Act 13 (SB-148) makes various changes relating to the retirement benefits of public employes who are participants under WRS. The act:

1. Establishes an early retirement window until June 30, 1990, based on a 55/23 rule (with earliest retirement allowed at age 50) for protective occupation participants (police officers, fire fighters and certain others) and a 62/23 rule (with the earliest retirement allowed at age 55) for all other participants. Under these rules, the normal retirement age (the age at which the participant is eligible for full retirement benefits) is calculated by subtracting from the first number (55 or 62) one year for each year of creditable service (service credited under WRS) that exceeds 23 years.

2. Reduces the normal retirement age for a protective occupation participant who retires after June 30, 1990, to 54, and to 53 with 25 years of creditable service.

3. Reduces the penalty for retirement before the normal retirement age of a participant, other than a protective occupation participant, who retires after June 30, 1990.

4. Beginning on January 1, 1990, for employes hired on or after January 1, 1982, reduces interest on employe retirement contributions from 5% to 3% annually for purposes of calculating a lump sum separation benefit (paid to a participant who terminates employment and waives his or her right to a future retirement benefit).

5. Changes the requirements for determining creditable service and whether an employe qualifies for participation under WRS.

6. Requires an employe who is hired on or after January 1, 1990, to have creditable service during at least 5 calendar years to establish the right to receive a retirement benefit. Formerly, there was no similar requirement.

7. Provides, with certain exceptions, that a statutory provision governing WRS benefits for state employes or certain other fringe benefits for state employes apply to state employees who are covered by a collective bargaining agreement unless the bargaining agreement provides otherwise (see also Fringe Benefits of Public Employes, Act 31).

8. Makes various changes relating to funding WRS benefits, valuation of WRS assets and adjustment of WRS employer and employe contribution rates.

Act 44 (AB-60) makes various changes related to employe notification by employers of business closings or mass layoffs. The act:

1. Reduces from 100 to 50 the number of employes an employer must employ to be subject to the requirement that the employer give 60 days' prior notice of a business closing or mass layoff.

2. Defines the actions that trigger the 60-day notice requirement. These actions are a "business closing," which means a permanent or temporary shutdown that affects 25 or more employes; or a "mass layoff", which means a reduction in force that affects at least 25% of the employer's workforce or 25 employes, whichever is greater, or at least 500 employes.

3. Creates various exceptions to the 60-day notice requirement.

4. Creates a private cause of action for an employe whose employer did not give him or her timely notice of a business closing or mass layoff. An employe may claim pay and the value of employe benefits from the time notice should have been given to the time of actual notice or layoff.

Act 77 (SB-293) makes various changes in the unemployment compensation law. The act:

1. Increases weekly benefit rates from a range of $38 to $200 per week to a range of $42 to $225 per week, depending upon the wages earned by an employe during the work period upon which benefit credits are based.

2. Decreases the amount of wages earned by an employe that are required to qualify for benefits.

3. Decreases the length of time that an employe must work and the amount of wages an employe must earn in order to requalify for benefits after quitting a job, and eliminates a reduction in benefits and wage credits that was formerly imposed upon employes who quit their jobs under certain conditions.

4. Treats temporary partial disability payments received under the Worker's Compensation law as wages for purposes of establishing benefit eligibility and benefit rates payable to an employe.

5. Establishes 3 new rate schedules for unemployment compensation contributions (taxes) that provide for reduced contributions when the cash balance of the unemployment reserve fund is at or above $300,000,000 on any June 30, and provides for small employers to be assessed at lower rates than larger employers.

Environment

Act 335 (SB-300) makes major changes relating to recycling, reduction in the amount of solid waste produced and solid waste disposal and treatment. The act:

1. Prohibits the landfilling and incineration of specified materials. The prohibitions are phased in from January 1, 1991, to January 1, 1995. The act establishes exceptions from some of the prohibitions, including an exception for solid waste generated in a local governmental unit in Wisconsin that has an effective recycling program or in a local governmental unit outside of Wisconsin that has an effective recycling program and that is located in a state that satisfies requirements for creating or expanding landfills and incinerators. The act includes criteria that DNR uses to determine whether a local governmental unit has an effective recycling program.

2. Establishes a program that awards grants to local governmental units to help pay the costs of recycling programs.

3. Establishes several financial assistance programs for businesses that produce products from materials recovered from solid waste and for diaper services.

4. Imposes a recycling fee on businesses, based on gross receipts, to fund programs related to recycling. The fee does not apply after July 1, 1992.

5. Requires some plastic containers to consist of a specified amount of recycled or remanufactured material, beginning on January 1, 1995.

6. Imposes a fee on newspapers that do not use specified amounts of recycled fiber in their newsprint.

7. Requires state agencies to separate for recycling specified materials from the solid waste they generate and imposes requirements on state and local governmental purchasing to increase the purchasing of recycled and reuseable, as opposed to single-use, products.

8. Directs DATCP to establish standards that must be met in order for a person to represent that products are recycled, recyclable or degradable.

9. Prohibits a local governmental unit that receives a state recycling grant from imposing a restriction on packaging, except for a restriction that is consistent with a state restriction, for a purpose related to the disposal of the packaging.

10. Requires DNR, the UW and the VTAE Board to conduct educational programs concerning recycling.

11. Requires persons who sell lead acid (motor vehicle) batteries to accept used batteries from consumers.

12. Limits the number of landfills that may be constructed in a 3rd class city (10,000 to 38,999 population). The act also establishes a program for the certification of landfill operators.

13. Establishes a program for the certification of incinerator operators.

14. Authorizes a municipality to impose a fee on the operator of a medical waste incinerator located in the municipality. The act authorizes DNR to modify the air pollution control permit of a medical waste incinerator at the request of the municipality in which the incinerator is located if the modifications are reasonable to protect the public health and the environment. The act also requires operators of large medical waste incinerators in certain counties to test air emissions for specified substances.

15. Establishes a program of grants to assist local governmental units in closing their landfills.

16. Imposes a solid waste capacity fee on out-of-state wastes landfilled or incinerated in this state.

17. Prohibits the sale of packaging with concentrations of certain toxic substances in excess of specified limits.

18. Prohibits the use of nondegradable bags for the disposal of yard waste.

19. Establishes a pilot program of grants to counties for the collection, disposal and recycling of agricultural chemicals and chemical containers.

20. Requires DILHR to establish requirements for the provision of space in public buildings for storage and collection of materials separated for recycling.

Act 366 (Oct. 1989 Spec. Sess. AB-25) makes various changes in environmental law. The act:

1. Divides between DNR and DOA the authority and responsibility for administering the clean water fund program, which assists municipalities with various eligible projects, including wastewater treatment plant projects.
2. Establishes procedures to reimburse certain municipalities for interim finance costs incurred for projects eligible for clean water fund financial assistance.
3. Establishes procedures to manage clean water fund investments and provide general financial management of the clean water fund program.
4. Creates a grant program to assist municipalities with the capital costs of achieving compliance with state standards for safe drinking water.
5. Provides additional funding for compensation for well contamination.
6. Provides an additional $11,938,400 from bond revenues to the point source pollution abatement program, which assists municipalities in the design and construction of wastewater treatment plants.
7. Identifies the Kinnickinnic river as within a watershed area in the Milwaukee river basin for purposes of the nonpoint source pollution abatement grant program.

Health and Social Services

Act 31 (SB-31) establishes numerous requirements, effective October 1, 1989, in addition to preexisting nursing home regulatory laws, that conform to federal Medicaid requirements, for operation of nursing homes that are certified providers of medical assistance services. The act:

1. Requires that nursing homes develop and periodically review a written plan of care for each resident and conduct and periodically review a comprehensive assessment of each resident's functional capacity.
2. Establishes specific resident rights generally and with respect to transfer, discharge, access and visitation.
3. Establishes requirements relating to equal access to quality care, admissions and resident fund protection.
4. Establishes monetary forfeitures for violations of the nursing home requirements and permits DHSS to impose penalty assessments and interest on the imposed forfeitures. Collections from the penalty assessments and interest must be used for specified purposes relating to the welfare of nursing home residents.

Act 200 (AB-305) creates a power of attorney for health care, whereby a person may designate another to act on behalf of the person, if incapacitated, in making an informed decision to accept, maintain, discontinue or refuse health care. The act:

1. Establishes requirements for execution and revocation of a power of attorney for health care.
2. Establishes powers and limitations under a power of attorney for health care, including permitting the withholding or withdrawal of nutrition or hydration under specified circumstances and permitting health care decisions on behalf of a pregnant woman.
3. Provides a form of a power of attorney for health care document, requires DHSS to prepare and make available copies of the form and permits DHSS to impose a fee for providing the form.
4. Provides a limited immunity from liability for health care facilities, health care providers and persons acting on behalf of others under a power of attorney for health care.

Act 294 (AB-347) changes procedures for voluntary acceptance of assignment of federal Medicare Part B benefits by physicians. Medicare Part B is that portion of the federal health insurance program that covers the costs of medically necessary physicians' services, specified outpatient services, home health services and specified medical tests and equipment. The act requires the Board on Aging and Long-Term Care annually to:

1. Ask full-time practicing physicians whether or not they voluntarily accept assignment of federal Medicare Part B benefits from their patients whose incomes are within state limits required to qualify for a homestead credit on state income taxes and provide the information to federal Medicare Part B beneficiaries.

2. Obtain information on the percentage of federal Medicare Part B claims for which assignment of benefits has been accepted by physicians.

The act requires DHSS annually to provide county aging units with enrollment cards for and materials explaining voluntary acceptance of assignment.

The act requires DNR annually to distribute to persons who are issued senior citizen recreation cards information on voluntary acceptance of assignment of federal Medicare Part B benefits by physicians and to report to the Legislature on the distribution.

The act requires DOT annually to distribute to certain licensees and license applicants information on voluntary acceptance of assignment of federal Medicare Part B benefits by physicians and to report to the Legislature on the distribution.

The act requires DOR annually to distribute to persons eligible for the homestead credit information on voluntary acceptance of assignment of federal Medicare Part B benefits by physicians and to report to the Legislature on the distribution.

Natural Resources

Act 31 (SB-31) creates a stewardship program that authorizes the state to contract public debt in an amount not to exceed $250,000,000 to acquire and develop land for the following conservation and recreational purposes:

1. General DNR land acquisition, including land for state parks and state forests.
2. Development and acquisition of land for local parks.
3. Acquisition of land for natural areas, the Ice Age Trail and the Lower Wisconsin State Riverway.
4. Development of wildlife habitat restoration areas to enhance wildlife-based recreation such as hunting, fishing and observation of wildlife.
5. Acquisition of land for development of state trails for use by bicyclists, hikers, equestrians or cross-country skiers.
6. Acquisition of land by local governments to develop urban green space.
7. Acquisition of easements along stream banks to support fish habitat and protect the streams from agricultural and urban runoff.
8. Acquisition of land under the natural areas heritage program.
9. General property development.

The act authorizes DNR to award grants to nonprofit conservation organizations to acquire land for some of these conservation and recreational purposes.

The act expresses the Legislature's intent that DNR expend $23,100,000 in each fiscal year between 1990-91 and 1999-2000 for the recreational and conservation purposes listed in items 1 through 9.

The act also creates a State Trail Council that advises and consults with DNR on the development and management of state trails.

The act also creates a Lower Wisconsin State Riverway along the Wisconsin River downstream from the dam at Prairie du Sac. Certain activities in the Riverway are regulated in order to preserve the scenic value of the lower Wisconsin River. Most land located in a city or village is not in the Riverway and is not subject to the act.

With certain exceptions, the act requires that a person (including a local governmental unit or state agency) obtain a permit to construct, reconstruct, modify or repair a structure or to place or replace a mobile home in the Riverway. In addition to the requirements for structures in general, there are specific permit requirements for piers, utility facilities that are not high-voltage transmission lines, bridges not under the supervision of DOT, stairways and walkways.

The act also requires that person obtain a permit to cut marketable timber in the Riverway.

The act prohibits certain activities in the Riverway, including:

1. Cutting of vegetation other than marketable timber, with certain exceptions.
2. Storing and disposing of junk or solid waste except certain wastes used in agriculture.
3. New mining activity.
4. Road construction or alteration not under the supervision of DOT unless certain requirements to minimize the visual impact and to guard against erosion are met.
5. New signs except for DNR signs, highway signs and no trespassing signs.
6. Construction of new dams.
7. Construction, reconstruction, modification or repair of wharves or public access sites unless certain requirements to minimize the visual impact are met.

The act provides that a person may put land in the Riverway into agricultural use only if the use complies with DATCP rules governing soil and water resource management and any applicable requirements under the act. The act exempts from regulation new or existing agricultural buildings on existing farms.

The act restricts recreational use of the river within the Riverway. Boats must carry waterproof trash containers and persons using the river may not leave trash in the Riverway. The act also bans glass containers in the Riverway.

The act creates a Lower Wisconsin State Riverway Board. The Board is responsible for issuing permits for structures on land not zoned as county shorelands. The counties are responsible for issuing permits for county shoreland. The Board or the PSC must approve the placement of high-voltage transmission lines. The placement may be approved only if the lines, to the extent practicable, will not impair the scenic beauty or the natural value of the Riverway.

The act establishes civil monetary forfeitures and allows the state, counties and municipalities to bring suit to enforce its provisions.

Act 324 (AB-710) creates a Dane County Watershed and Lakes Commission (Commission), which is governed by a Board of Commissioners (Board), as part of county government for Dane County. The Board has various duties and powers regarding the regulation of boating and the protection and rehabilitation of water quality in Dane County, including the following:

1. The Board may propose to the Dane County Board the adoption, modification or rescission of a local regulation or ordinance relating to boating or to water recreation or safety.
2. The Board may propose to the Dane County Board minimum environmental and property maintenance standards which, if adopted by the county board, supersede any conflicting and less restrictive ordinances, local regulations or minimum standards.

3. The Board may develop projects for certain purposes, including water quality, recreation and safety; reduction of soil erosion; and aquatic weed control.

4. The Board may propose to the Dane County Board that a levy be placed on all taxable real property for the Commission's operations and that special assessment or special charges be levied to implement the Commission's projects.

The act prohibits the county and its municipalities from reducing their level of expenditures for surface water and groundwater quality protection and rehabilitation below the expenditures they made for the fiscal year ending in 1990.

The Board consists of 9 members who are residents of Dane county: the Dane County Executive or his or her designee, the Mayor of Madison or his or her designee, 2 Dane County Supervisors from districts outside Madison, 2 Dane County Supervisors from districts in Madison, and 3 members who are not Dane County Supervisors.

Shared Revenue

Act 336 (SB-542) creates a tax rate disparity payment to be made, beginning in 1991, to municipalities that have a property tax rate that is higher than the statewide average, a per capita property value that is less than 120% of the statewide average and a budget increase less than a specified amount. Each qualifying municipality receives a portion of the payment that reflects the size of its levy rate and the value of its property. The amount to be distributed is $25,000,000 in 1991 and thereafter.

State Government

Act 31 (SB-31) makes various changes relating to district attorneys and the prosecution system (see also Other State Government, Acts 117 and 336 and Fringe Benefits of Public Employes, Act 122). The act:

1. Transfers district attorneys, deputy district attorneys and assistant district attorneys from county employment to state employment.

2. Specifies the duties of and restrictions on district attorneys, deputy district attorneys and assistant district attorneys.

3. Transfers certain duties, such as providing advice to the county board, from district attorneys to corporation counsels. The act also allows each county board, in lieu of or in addition to employing a corporation counsel, to designate an attorney to perform the duties of the corporation counsel as the need arises.

4. Provides that counties continue to be responsible for handling civil actions relating to child support and paternity. With certain exceptions, the counties must either employ or contract with attorneys to provide these services.

5. Includes district attorneys under the code of ethics for state public officials.

6. Provides for district attorneys to be paid salaries fixed with reference to the state compensation plan at levels determined in accordance with the populations of the prosecutorial units in which they serve, but at a level not lower than the salary they were receiving on December 31, 1989.

7. Provides for appointment of deputy and assistant district attorneys in the unclassified service, but applies provisions relating to discharge and discipline procedure for state employes in the classified service to assistant district attorneys.

8. Permits assistant district attorneys to bargain collectively with the state in a collective bargaining unit separate from other attorneys employed by the state.

9. Provides for assistant district attorneys to be paid in accordance with the pay range or ranges established for assistant attorneys general, except as otherwise provided in a collective bargaining agreement.

10. Provides that the Milwaukee County District Attorney and each Milwaukee County deputy or assistant district attorney has an option to continue as a participant under the Milwaukee County retirement system instead of becoming a participant under WRS if he or she elects that option on or before March 1, 1990.

11. Provides that each district attorney, deputy district attorney and assistant district attorney has an option to continue coverage under his or her county fringe benefit plan instead of being covered under the state fringe benefit plan if he or she elects that option within a specified period.

12. Provides a series of payments for calendar years 1990, 1991 and 1992 to provide a transition toward state assumption of costs relating to the prosecution system.

Act 338 (AB-611) makes various changes in the lobbying regulation law and the code of ethics for state public officials. Significant provisions include:

1. Transferring responsibility for administration of the lobbying regulation law from the Secretary of State to the state Ethics Board.

2. Broadening coverage of the lobbying regulation law so that it is not limited to "direct" communications with officials, covers contacts with all legislative employes (including blue collar and clerical employes), and specifically provides that time spent in preparation for making communications and appearances is considered to be "lobbying."

3. Deleting a provision that permitted a principal that is a nonprofit organization or agency to furnish things of value to state officials and candidates for state office at a bona fide social function or meeting of the organization or agency.

4. Permitting a local government that is a principal to furnish compensation, per diems and expense reimbursements to employes who are also state officials under certain conditions.

5. Permitting things of value to be provided by a lobbyist to certain of his or her relatives and individuals who reside in the same household as the lobbyist even if the relatives or other individuals are state officials or candidates for state office.

6. Permitting a principal to furnish things of value to a member of the governing body of the principal who is an employe of the UW system under certain conditions.

7. Permitting a lobbyist or principal to furnish things of value to an individual who would otherwise be precluded from accepting the thing because of membership on a part-time state body under certain conditions.

8. Making changes in lobbying registration and reporting requirements. Reporting of personal travel and living expenses is required, as well as research and related costs and certain expenses incurred to urge members of the public to attempt to influence legislative action or rule making by state agencies.

Taxation

Act 31 (SB-31) reduces the top rate on both toll and exchange revenue for the gross receipts tax on telecommunications companies.

The act also creates a one-time supplement for 1990 of the school property tax credit, which increases the rate of the credit by 6.5% for taxable year 1987 or 1988 or both. The department sent out checks in April 1990 to eligible claimants in an amount equal to the lesser of the claimant's net tax liability or the credit as calculated under the act.

Transportation

Act 22 (SB-7) extends the requirement that most motor vehicle operators and passengers use safety belts until July 1, 1991. The act permits passengers to not use safety belts in rear seats if shoulder harnesses have not been installed and eliminates the imposition of fees and assessments for safety belt use convictions. The act retains the $10 forfeiture for safety belt use violations.

Act 105 (AB-605) establishes a classified driver license system and implements the requirements of the federal Commercial Motor Vehicle Safety Act of 1986. The act:

1. Requires issuance of a single comprehensive driver's license to each motor vehicle operator by April 1, 1992, authorizing the operation of specific classes and types of motor vehicles. The act eliminates chauffeurs' licenses and school bus operators' licenses, and establishes fees for licenses, endorsements and instruction permits.

2. Establishes new eligibility requirements and restrictions relating to occupational licenses and authorizes DOT to issue occupational licenses for commercial motor vehicle drivers without a court order.

3. Requires applicants for a license authorizing the operation of commercial motor vehicles to pass a written test and a driving skills road test. The act permits issuance of the license without a driving skills road test to certain experienced applicants.

4. Requires prospective employers to obtain an employment history from applicants for employment as a commercial motor vehicle driver and requires any commercial motor vehicle driver to notify DOT and his or her employer of traffic law convictions, other than parking-related offenses, and of any suspension, revocation or cancellation of operating privileges.

5. Provides that commercial motor vehicle drivers who commit serious traffic-related offenses are disqualified from operating commercial motor vehicles for a specified period of time up to a lifetime disqualification.

6. Prohibits the operation of commercial motor vehicles by drivers with an alcohol concentration of 0.04 or more and makes changes in state laws on presumptions concerning chemical testing for intoxication or alcohol concentration.

7. Specifies that persons driving, operating or on duty time with respect to commercial motor vehicles are considered to have given implied consent for chemical testing prior to arrest. The act provides that refusal to submit to chemical testing results in immediate issuance of an order prohibiting operation of any commercial motor vehicle for 24 hours and revocation of operating privileges.

7. Requires a referendum on the issuance of bonds or promissory notes by a school district only if at least 7,500 electors or 20% of the number of electors voting in the last gubernatorial election, whichever is less, file a petition requesting a referendum. Under former law, a referendum was mandatory for bonds in excess of $5,000, and, for promissory notes, subject to request by a petition signed by at least 500 electors or 20% of the number of electors voting in the last gubernatorial election, whichever was less. The act also provides that such employer contributions continue while an employe is on a leave of absence for the entire period of the leave of absence if the employe is receiving temporary disability compensation under state worker's compensation law or, if the employe is not receiving such compensation, only for the first 3 months of the leave of absence.

Act 122 (Oct. 1989 Spec. Sess. AB-12) provides for service that has been performed by a district attorney, deputy district attorney or assistant district attorney before January 1, 1990 (as a county employe) to be credited towards satisfying the 6-month service requirement (as a state employe) for eligibility for employer contribution towards his or her health insurance premium under the state group health insurance program. Act 323 (AB-526) establishes a type of reciprocity among the 3 public employe retirement systems of this state (WRS, the Milwaukee County Retirement System and the City of Milwaukee Retirement System), subject to approval by the respective county and city governing bodies. The act provides that any individual who has vested annuity benefit rights under any of the 3 systems, subsequently becomes covered by one or both of the other systems and terminates all employment covered by any of the systems may, in lieu of any other benefits payable under the systems, have his or her retirement benefit computations and eligibility under each system determined by using the sum of all service credited under each system to meet vesting periods required for benefit eligibility during subsequent employment covered by any of the systems, and also provides that the individual's final average salary or final average earnings used to compute retirement benefits under each system shall be the final average salary or final average earnings determined in accordance with the provisions of the respective system based on the earnings covered by that system, indexed by a specified percentage (to account for salary increases that would have been realized had the individual continued employment under

2. Expands the types of underground petroleum storage systems that are eligible for awards from the petroleum storage environmental cleanup fund to reimburse owners for costs incurred because of petroleum product discharges. The act raises the limits on the size of awards that DILHR may make from the fund and adds compensation to 3rd parties for bodily injury and property damage as a reimbursable cost. The act also provides that no awards may be made from the fund for costs incurred after July 1, 1995 (see also Acts 254 and 255).
3. Increases funding for environmental repair at contaminated waste sites by imposing a fee on generators of hazardous waste, increasing the tonnage fee on solid waste disposed of in landfills and authorizing state bonding to finance environmental repair projects.
4. Prohibits DNR from issuing an operating license for a solid waste disposal facility or hazardous waste facility if the applicant or an owner of the applicant is subject to a DNR plan or order regarding a solid waste disposal facility or hazardous waste facility and has not complied with the plan or order.

Act 254 (AB-274) makes persons owning certain above-ground petroleum product storage systems eligible for awards from the petroleum storage environmental cleanup fund to pay some of the costs incurred because of discharges of petroleum products.

Act 255 (AB-275) increases the limits on the size of awards that DILHR may make from the petroleum storage environmental cleanup fund to owners of some underground petroleum product storage systems as reimbursement for costs incurred before July 1, 1995, because of petroleum product discharges. The act eliminates the July 1, 1995, expiration date on the award program but establishes lower limits on the size of awards made to owners of underground systems for costs incurred after that date. The lower limits also apply to awards to owners of above-ground petroleum product storage systems, no matter when the costs are incurred. Act 325 (AB-736) requires the UW Board of Regents to establish a hazardous pollution prevention program to provide education and technical assistance in reducing the use and release of hazardous substances. The act establishes a hazardous pollution prevention audit grant program, administered by DOD, to assist producers and users of hazardous substances to identify ways to reduce their use and release of those substances. The act creates a Hazardous Pollution Prevention Board to act on applications for the audit grants and advise state agencies about the promotion of hazardous pollution prevention. The act also establishes a process for DNR to revise the state's capacity assurance plan (the federally required plan for the management of hazardous waste generated in this state), and requires DNR to designate a Hazardous Pollution Prevention Coordinator.

Act 326 (AB-767) makes several changes in the private sewage system replacement and rehabilitation grant program. The act replaces the income limitation on program eligibility of a commercial establishment with a limitation based on gross revenue and increases the maximum daily waste water flow rate that a commercial establishment may have and still be eligible for a grant. The act requires that DNR award grants equal to 60% of average current replacement or rehabilitation costs. The act also allows DNR to award a grant for costs incurred prior to the issuance of a written enforcement order if a state or local governmental inspector has determined that the private sewage system is failing.

Act 335 (SB-300) makes major changes relating to recycling, reduction in the amount of solid waste produced and solid waste disposal and treatment (see HIGHLIGHTS).

Act 336 (SB-542) makes several changes in environmental laws. The act:

1. Changes the date on which DNR may begin making transition loans from the clean water fund (for wastewater treatment projects) from April 1, 1990, to June 1, 1990. The act authorizes DNR to make transition loan commitments in an amount not to exceed its general obligation bonding authority for the clean water fund program plus federal funds received for the program. The act also authorizes a municipality that has received a commitment for a transition loan from DNR to issue municipal obligations in anticipation of receiving the transition loan.

The act specifies circumstances under which a nursing home's increased medical assistance payment may be recovered by DHSS. The act also increases medical assistance payments for providing active treatment to developmentally disabled persons in intermediate care facilities for the mentally retarded and for reducing operating deficits of municipally-owned nursing homes. Lastly, the act increases funding for fiscal year 1988-89 for services to eligible persons under the community options program.

Act 9 (AB-291) provides that the eligibility for medical assistance of a pregnant woman who meets AFDC or medical assistance medically needy income and resource limits begins 3 months before the month she applies for medical assistance and continues until the last day of the month in which the 60th day after the last day of the pregnancy falls. Formerly, such eligibility began on the date of application and ended 60 days after the last day of the pregnancy.

Act 18 (SB-48) permits DHSS to assess monetary forfeitures against hospitals and ambulatory surgery centers for failure to provide required information to the Office of Health Care Information, establishes procedures for the assessments and expands the scope of individual protection from identification in data released by the Office of Health Care Information.

2. Requires a nurse's assistant employed by a hospital or nursing home and a home health aide employed by a home health agency to complete training and an examination. The act allows a nurse's assistant or home health aide to be so employed for fewer than 120 days without having completed training and an examination. The training and examination programs must be reviewed and approved by DHSS (see also Acts 84 and 336).
3. Requires DHSS to review, investigate and, if requested, hold hearings on allegations relating to the neglect, abuse or misappropriation of property of a nursing home resident or hospital or home health agency patient by a nurse's assistant or home health aide. The act also requires DHSS to maintain a registry of nurses' assistants and home health aides that lists those who have completed required training and examinations and those about whom allegations and findings have been made concerning neglect, abuse or misappropriation of property of patients or residents.

4. Establishes a DHSS-administered loan program for nonprofit rural hospitals, and cooperatives composed of hospitals with fewer than 100 beds, to assist in altering services to meet changing medical needs of the hospitals' patient service areas.

5. Modifies the long-term support community options program, which assesses persons residing in or seeking residence in nursing homes or centers for the developmentally disabled and provides alternative home- or community-based services. The act also makes several changes relating to the medical assistance program. The act:

Establishes provisions for the protection of income and resources of an individual whose spouse is in a nursing home and receiving medical assistance (referred to as spousal impoverishment provisions). Under the act, the noninstitutionalized spouse may retain $1,500 per month from the couple's income. At the time of application for medical assistance, the amount of resources considered to be available to an institutionalized spouse equals the value of the couple's resources minus the greater of $15,000 or 1/2 of the value of the couple's resources, but not more than $60,000 (see also Act 81).

The act also requires DHSS to award grants to enable community support programs to become certified providers under the medical assistance program.

6. Permits a prospective medical assistance payment increase for nursing home services of up to 5.1% in 1989-90 and up to 4.1% in 1990-91, excluding payments for persons diagnosed with developmental disability or mental illness who require active treatment and excluding payments for preadmission screenings and annual reviews, as required under federal Medicaid laws.

Act 53 (AB-619) requires DHSS to pay to the Racine Community Care Corporation the state portion of medical assistance reimbursement for providing nursing home care to medical assistance recipients, for a period of time beginning on the date a nursing home license is transferred to the corporation. 4. Requires that, if state, federal and county funding for alcohol and other drug abuse treatment services provided to eligible persons by a county department of community programs are insufficient to meet the needs of all eligible persons, first priority for services be given to pregnant women who suffer from alcoholism or alcohol abuse or are drug dependent.

5. Requires the Secretary of Health and Social Services to establish a 19-member task force to develop and report to the Legislature on plans to address problems of perinatal addiction to controlled substances and problems related to services necessary to combat substance abuse among women who are pregnant or have young children. The act creates an exception to the learnfare school attendance requirement for the mother of a child if a physician has determined that she is not ready to return to school after giving birth. The act also specifies that an individual who is on a waiting list for a children-at-risk program is subject to the learnfare school attendance requirement.
